Through the resources we provide, our sponsors are helping FIRST inspire young people and parents to become the next generation of recycling, science, technology, engineering & farming. Join our cause.

Swaphandmedowns.com has been online since 1999 and receives millions of global visitors yearly. We have made nationwide news since we are considered to be the pioneer on the Internet to encourage families to share and recycle gently used child clothing, toys, books and more. Thus avoiding having items tossed in the land fields and saving families money and making friends across the cultures.

Founder Jane Sadowy of Kent County Delaware has been involved for many years in farming and online education projects. She has taken great pride in educating school age children about her back yard chicken projects and encouraging children to learn about farm life and where their food comes from. She maintains her education at Delaware Technical Community College. She is involved with helping the general contractors of Delaware (some which are veterans) promote their business online. Their phones are ringing and their businesses are bringing in plenty of income to house and feed their families.

Furthermore, Jane was the leading publisher for online schools and making sure parents had all the resources and encouragement to gain further adult education. Over the last five years she has been involved in major projects to instill encouragement to inner city children at <http://www.tvchannelonline.com>. Feeling it is very important to give back to the youth and helping our communities. Working hard to make sure she can provide all the children with furtherance and sensitive guidance and helping them receive the skills they need to succeed.

Swaphandmedowns.com sponsors come from industries of all shapes and sizes. All of our sponsors are critical to building our programs for that engage children and students in meaningful education, and we are grateful to each one for their unique contributions. Please contribute any amount you can.
